Association Is Launched

Placerville Unites With Nevadans To Boost Travel

Dedicated to the development of U. S. Highway Route 50 through Nevada and California and pledged to the promotion of tourist travel on that road, the Pony Express Route division of the national U. S. Route 50 Association was launched at a road conference Sunday afternoon at the Ormsby County courthouse, Carson City.

Placerville was represented at the meeting by a delegation including the chamber of commerce road committee chairman, William Hays, and Mrs. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Raffetto, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maul, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Barker, Miss Bess Ellen Backes, and Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Allen.

The conference, at which there were representatives from most of the communities along U. S. Route 50 from Ely to Placerville, had been called under the sponsorship of Lions Clubs at Fallon and at Carson City, and was opened under the gavel of the Rev. M. J. Hersey, president of the Carson City Lions' Club.

Claude Smith, editor of the Fallon (Nevada) Standard, was installed as president pro tem and was later elected president of the organization. Roy Coverston, also of Fallon, who served as temporary secretary, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Lloyd A. Raffetto of Placerville, president of the Pony Express Route Association and Pioneer Trails, Inc., was named vice-president for California, and William Garrett of Ely, was named vice-president for Nevada.

Frog Leaps To New Record

"Emmett Dalton" Jumps 13 Feet, 5 Inches

ANGELS CAMP (UP)—A beetle browed, gargoyled jowled frog, burdened by the name of Emmett Dalton, notorious outlaw bandit, snapped leisurely at flies today unaware that he was a hometown sensation as holder of a new world's record in frog jumping.

Emmett Dalton won the international frog jumping contest yesterday by leaping 53 times his own sit down height to clear 13 feet, 5 inches and break the former world's record by two inches. The old record, which stood for five years, was set by the mighty Budweiser.

His owner, W. G. Daniels of Angels Camp, petted him with pride.

More than 25,000 persons witnessed the annual frog leaping event, made famous by Mark Twain's story, "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

Superiority of local frogs was shown again when Kilowatt, also a hometown toad, took second place by jumping 12 feet, 1 inch in the air. The eastern hoppers took third with their "Combustion," from Buffalo, N. Y., who made 11 feet, 6 inches.

BUILDS HOME

PAINESVILLE, O. (UP)—Victor Long, although not a carpenter, is rapidly completing construction of a new two-story home. Regularly employed in a railroad car shop, Long has done all of the work unaided, with the exception of plumbing and electrical wiring.

Mrs. Florence C. Bryan of El Dorado, was removed Sunday morning to a Sacramento hospital for observation. Mrs. Bryan has been ill for several months past.

Oscar M. Evans, timber cruiser for the forest service, and a crew of 12 men, have resumed their cruising in the Caldor area, continuing the work begun last season.

Charles Rayburn Is Summoned

Services Tuesday For Leader In Fruit Industry

Last rites for Charles Rayburn, for many years a leader in fruit growing and shipping in this county and elsewhere, who passed away very suddenly at his residence on Saturday evening, will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The services will be from the Masonic temple in Placerville, under the auspices of El Dorado Lodge No. 26, F. & A. M., of which he was a member. The body will be removed to Bakersfield for burial.

Mr. Rayburn collapsed at his residence at the Camino Heights Orchard, at the five-mile stone, on Saturday evening after he returned to the house from a strenuous day in the orchard.

He spoke of not feeling especially well and said he would take some medicine. When he failed to reappear within a few moments, an investigation showed that he had collapsed.

Coloma Pioneer Native Taken

Last Rites Will Be Tuesday From Catholic Church

John J. Duffy, a native of Coloma, born in 1858, died Saturday evening at a hospital in Placerville of pneumonia. He had been ill but a short while.

The last rites will be Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from the Catholic church, Rev. Father T. J. Hayes officiating. Burial will be at Diamond Springs cemetery.

Rosary will be said at the Dillinger parlors at 8 o'clock on Monday evening.

Mr. Duffy, a native of Coloma, was a brother of the late Mrs. William Bathurst and is survived by the following nieces and nephews, William J. Bathurst, John H. Bathurst, Duncan J. Bathurst of Placerville; and Edward P. Bathurst and Mrs. George Krausse of Sacramento.

He will be remembered by his older friends as having been in charge of the "old chute camp."

Mr. Duffy spent his earlier days in old Mexico and was, during most of his life, a miner and prospector.

During the last few years he has made his home in a cabin on the James Keane place, at Lotus, a few miles from his birthplace.

Relatives Visiting At Vaught Home

Mr. and Mrs. Mance H. Vaught returned Sunday night from Los Angeles where they were called by the sudden death of Mrs. Vaught's sister, Mrs. Stella Erb.

They were accompanied home by Mrs. Vaught's mother who had come from her home in Idaho to attend the funeral services of her daughter in Los Angeles.

Also visiting at the Vaught home is Mrs. Vaught's brother, Guthrie Nichols, who came from his home in Chicago to Los Angeles by plane to attend the last rites for his sister.

Mr. Nichols' round trip plane journey was planned to include San Francisco and Sacramento on returning. Taking advantage of the stop over at the capital city he came to Placerville Sunday to spend a few days before completing the air journey home.

Fisher Fined For Filching Few

The minimum fine for fishing in closed waters is $25 and Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis added $1 extra for each fish (a total of 11 fish and dollars) on Monday afternoon when he found Frank Stearns of Blair's Mill, guilty.

Stearns had been arrested while fishing in a tributary of the American River near the mill, and under the "combination" fine paid $36 for his few fish.

Scouts Close Camporee

Many Visitors At Campsite Sunday At Park

The first Camporee ever held by the Boy Scouts of the El Dorado County district concluded early Sunday afternoon at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park.

Approximately 60 Scouts took part in the overnight camp, representing the Boy Scout troops at Camino, Diamond Springs and Placerville.

Highest rating in the camp on general Scout campcraft went to the Pine Tree and Flying Eagle patrols of Troop 95, at Diamond Springs, and the Beaver patrol of Camino. They were rated as "A."

The Panther, Beaver and Explorer patrols, of Troop 57, rated as "B," and a "C" rating was awarded to the Coo-koo patrol of Troop 67.

The patrols which received A or B ratings are eligible to attend the Northern California Camporee at which there will be 5,000 Boy Scouts, in the Marin County hills next fall.

The camp was under the supervision of Carl Fossette, Golden Empire Council field executive of Sacramento; who was assisted by the following Scout

We are advised that preparations are being made at Greenwood for a triple funeral service on Tuesday.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (UP)—Citizens of Fairbanks today began to repair damage caused by the most serious flood in years.

Receding waters of the Chena and Tanana Rivers, which had caused damage estimated at more than $100,000, left huge ice floes, debris and wreckage in more than half of the town.

Grand President Hartley Russell of San Francisco, is presiding at the business sessions which will continue until Thursday. TAHOE HIGHWAY BOOSTERS UNITE

Resort and other property owners at the south end of Lake Tahoe in Lake Valley, have organized a Lake Valley service club and will hold their second meeting on Tuesday evening at Lawson's lodge, at the wye.

Norman Celio is president of the organization and Mrs. John S. Lawson is secretary.

The organization has as its objectives the encouragement of road development in Lake Valley. One phase of this matter in which the unit is especially interested relates to obtaining sufficient highway equipment in the valley to keep roads open around the lake through the winter.

Mrs. Lawson reports that there are many people who stay in the valley through the winter, or who establish themselves as residents very early in the spring. She states there were 30 women present at a tea which she gave early in March; this being indicative of the number of persons who are at the south end of the lake at that early date in the season.

THIRD DEGREE

Members of Oriental Lodge No. 144, F. & A. M., of San Francisco, met with El Dorado Lodge No. 26, F. & A. M., on Saturday evening, and a third degree was conferred upon a San Francisco candidate. A social time followed.

Smith Flat P-T. A. Concludes Year

Members of the Smith Flat P-T. A. held their concluding meeting of the spring term on Friday, May 14, with Mrs. Grace Goldman presiding. There were twenty-four members and friends present.

Mrs. Fay Rupley was presented with a past president's pin, Mrs. Goldman making the presentation. Plans were made for a card party on Tuesday evening, May 25 at the new schoolhouse with Mrs. Wanda Jacquier as chairman.

Eight pupils of the upper grades gave a lively debate on the subject, Resolved, that the pupils of the upper grades be allowed to do the janitor work next year, the money so earned to be used for the purchase of playground equipment.

Mrs. Kittie Jacquier gave an interesting talk on her recent trip. Refreshments were served and a social hour concluded a very interesting meeting.

Tahoe Resort Is Burned

Cal-Neva Lodge Destroyed In Fire Sunday Night

TRUCKEE (UP)—The famous state-line Cal-Neva Lodge, built on the borders of California and Nevada, was in ruins today following a fire of undetermined origin. Loss was estimated at more than $200,000.

An automatic sprinkler system, which, if completed, probably would have extinguished the fire, was being installed.

The fire, which broke out late last night, was visible as far as Truckee, and fire equipment from the city was rushed out to aid forest service rangers and CCC enrollees, who succeeded in keeping the blaze from spreading to nearby cottages, the $100,000 business block recently completed nearby, and the dense pine forests which surround the place.

Mills College celebrated Browning Day, honoring the poet who was born 125 years ago. Mrs. M. C. Sloss, Browning student and collector, presented a first edition of the poems of Elizabeth Barrett Browning to the college library. That Browning is indicted for too much optimism by critics who have only a superficial knowledge of his poetry was the declaration made by Professor O. E. James who gave the address of the day.

When Professor James spoke of Browning's "communicable vitality," it occurred to us that many of the so-called "uplift" writers who are so popular today, might have saved themselves the trouble of writing their books and spared the public from reading them, if they had read Browning's poetry and recommended his work instead. After all, Browning supplied many of the fresh currents of ideas that the uplift writers have been diluting. Without taking too much trouble the chief idea of "Wake Up and Live" and of "Life Begins at Forty," can be found in Browning.

Readers may remember how frequently "Rabbi Ben Ezra" was quoted two decades ago:

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be
The last of life for which the first was made:

Our times are in his hand
Who saith, "A whole I planned,
Youth shows but half; trust God;
see all, nor be afraid."

We debated whether or not we wanted to see the writer, Bertita Harding, who was passing through San Francisco. She would probably be of battleship proportions, we thought, and talk about tiresome methods of research since her books deal with history. However, we saw that "Golden Fleece" her latest book, has been mounting steadily in the list of books read in the United States, so we went. And weren't we glad? If you ever saw the strains of a Strauss Waltz translated in human form, that is Bertita Harding. Beauty and distinction, youth and gaiety are hers. She had no need to do any tiresome research as her sources are the panorama of memories of her childhood.

The material of "Phantom Crown" is a heritage from her mother whom the Emperor Franz Josef commissioned to go to Mexico to buy the imperial gems that belonged to Maximilian and Carlotta. The gracious simplicity of Carlotta had won her a few friends in Mexico and Mrs. Harding told about the impoverished old ladies who related their memories of Carlotta when they came to call. When Mrs. Harding goes on a tour, for she also appears on the lecture platform as Carlotta and gives a monologue dressed in a crinoline and carrying a fan that belonged to the empress and was given to her mother by one of these ladies. Her audience is also permitted to see some of the imperial heirlooms, among them a part of the silver banquet set that Napoleon gave to Maximilian.

Before she wrote "Golden Fleece," Mrs. Harding went to Europe to see the scenes again where her characters lived and to talk to her grandmother whose memories of the pomp and plume of court life were still fresh and vivid. She wanted to see the Danube with the eyes of the young Princess Elizabeth and Bavaria so she made a special journey and looked at the little chapels with their touches of Byzantine architecture and at the castle-topped hills as she imagined the 16-year-old Princess would have looked.

Elizabeth was a great beauty. She was one of the first women in public life who was known to diet and often her food consisted of floral meals including a violet salad. The traditional pattern has been to give Elizabeth the center of the stage but Mrs. Harding heeding her grandmother, gives Elizabeth the glory, yet Franz Josef who remains in the shadows is the character that really shines.

To those who want to write, Mrs. Harding gives no formula for instantaneous success, but she gives them a recipe—for rabbit ragout. "Catch yourself a rabbit first, for no matter how you season or upon what fine platter you serve, if there is no rabbit, there is nothing." Hatch yourself an idea, in other words, and don't worry about the technique. From an old Indian nurse in Mexico she learned that one must never be afraid if they really have something to say, because words are there to serve them.

Mrs. Harding gives freely of her philosophy. In each human spirit, she believes, there are original forces, untapped and eternal and always at our command when we learn to awaken them.

We have just begun J. B. Priestley's "Midnight on the Desert." Mr. Priestly takes stock of himself, it is a sort of mental and spiritual inventory taken against an American background.

But like the Englishman that he is, Mr. Priestley must cavil at something. He is irritated because American women doll up all of the time. If they appear at breakfast with sleek hair and powdered noses, he thinks they are all smuggled up for a party and he would rather have them plain and frumpish. We would like an American man's opinion on that point. But here is Marjorie Hillis, she who wrote "Live Alone and Like It," coming with a new book "An Orchid on Your Budget."

Mrs. Harry Tuthill was a visitor on Saturday from Camino.

which is going to tell us how to be smart on next to nothing a year. So I'm afraid it's a prickly pear for you, my dear, Mistah Priestley!

the group, the above-named officers met and named an executive committee of seven, chosen from each community along the route. The members of the executive committee are William Hays, Placerville; F. E. Shannon, Glenbrook; Archi Pozzi, Carson City; Homer Bowers of Fallon; Leroy Cassidy of Austin; Harold Gill of Eureka; and William Goodman of Ely.

The officers, with the executive committee, will outline a plan of action and set a date for a subsequent meeting of the association.

Ely members reported a meeting is scheduled at that community on Memorial Day, at which they will confer with good roads enthusiasts from Salt Lake City, on the matter of extending U. S. Route 50 from Ely east to the Utah-Nevada line, and from there approximately 90 miles to Delta, Utah.

It was said that Nevada highway board members are favorably considering this project and it is hoped that a similar attitude will be found on the part of the Utah State Road Commission.

The completion of the proposed highway link would, it was said, give U. S. Route 50 a definite connection through Utah to Colorado and the east, in addition to the existing connection with Salt Lake City through Wendover.

The association endorsed this project as a part of its general program of highway development and tourist travel promotion along U. S. Route 50.

Among those present at the meeting were Judge Clark J. Guild of the District Court of the State of Nevada, Vail Pittman, publisher of the Ely Times, Arthur S. Dudley, secretary of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce; and representatives of the Sacramento division and the Nevada division of the California State Automobile Association.

Permits are also required for stoves burning gasoline, kerosene, or wood. They are good for the entire calendar year and are issued without charge. Each person receiving a permit, however, is required to sign an agreement to abide by the following rules:

Not to smoke on National Forest lands closed to smoking; except in camp, at places of habitation, and in special posted smoking areas.

To completely extinguish all burning matches, cigarettes, cigars, and pipe heels before throwing them away.

To carry a shovel and ax per automobile or pack train. Minimum size: Shovel, overall length 36 inches, blade eight inches wide; ax, overall length 26 inches, head, two pounds or more in weight.

To clear a space at least ten feet in diameter of all leaves, needles, and trash before starting an open fire.

Income Returns Set Record

Alpine County Has Only 2 Reports For Year

WASHINGTON (UP)—A 10-year high was established by the number of individual income tax returns filed in 1936 on 1935 incomes. Internal revenue Bureau revealed today.

A total of 4,666,504 persons filed returns in 1936 compared with 4,201,859 in 1935. This was the highest of any year since 1925 when 7,369,788 individual returns were filed. The returns were sixth highest in history.

New York City, including the counties of Bronx, Kings, New York, Richmond and Queens, reported a total of 596,523 returns filed, or approximately 13 per cent of the nation's total.

New York County led the list of returns by counties with 366,342. At the bottom of the list were Clay County, Tenn., and King County, Texas, with only one return each. Several counties, including Van Buren, Arkansas, Alpine, California, Elliott, Kentucky, Hancock and Perry, Tenn., had only two returns each.

and died before the medicine cabinet. Mr. Rayburn had been in Placerville during the earlier afternoon and had greeted some of his many friends as usual, making no reference that he felt his health condition was any different than ordinarily. His passing was a great shock to his many friends and to members of the family.

Born 66 years ago at Saybrook, Illinois, Mr. Rayburn came to California as a child and at the age of 14 years entered upon his life's work in the fruit growing and shipping business. He was for many years connected with the Anderson Green Fruit Company and with other fruit growing and shipping concerns in Santa Clara County.

Intensely interested in his chosen field of work, Mr. Rayburn made a thorough study of the fruit growing industry and came to a full understanding of the business as a grower as well as a shipper.

He came to Placerville in 1900 as manager for the Earl Fruit Company and was here continuously for 18 years, during which he took an active part in civic affairs in addition to carrying on his fruit business.

He was a prime mover in the Bartlett Pear Show held in Placerville in 1913 and was at one time secretary of the chamber of commerce.

In 1918 he was assigned to Kern County where he supervised the founding of what is now known as the Di Giorgio Farms, a 5,000-acre tract for the Earl Fruit Company, and was for the first seven years of its existence in charge of the farm.

He returned to El Dorado County about five years ago to take charge of the company's Camino Heights Orchard.

Mr. Rayburn was a member of El Dorado Lodge No. 26, F. & A. M., of Placerville Aerie No. 889, F. O. E., and

GRANDSTAND Gossip

By Bob Vivian

Eddie Reeder was the big gun in the Bartlett win over the Folsom Champions, Sunday. Eddie collected a home run and a double in four trips to the plate to drive in five of the runs. Reeder's home run was a line drive over the second basemen's head, and his double was a line drive near the right field foul line.

After Reeder's home run in the second, Lippert, Folsom chucker had pitched a ball, before some one noticed the Folsom team had no right fielder. Griffith had gone after the ball and returned to the field about five minutes later. It must have been some hit to take that long to retrieve the ball. Or maybe Griffith went to

COLFAX DROPS GAME TO ROSEVILLE

COLFAX—The Colfax Lions lost a hard fought ball game Sunday to the Roseville Tigers by the score of 5 to 4. Although out-hitting the Tigers 15 to 10 the Lions made a total of four errors, two of which were costly. The game was a nip and tuck affair all the way with first one team in the lead and then the other. Tony Boroja was on the mound for Roseville while Kelly pitched for Colfax. The score:

Colfax	4	15	4
Roseville	5	10	2

town for a glass of beer.

Backerich, Bart first baseman and former Sacramento Senator, poled out his first hit of the year Sunday, a home run. Backerich is about the best around the initial sack, but is weak when it comes to batting.

Manager Gallagher of the Folsom team, couldn't get sore in Sunday's game. He'd argue a little but would always come back to the bench, with a smile on his face. That's the way the fans like to see Gallagher. He's a good ball player but his continual crabbing did not make him click with the fans.

Dave Roderick hung up his second win of the season, and his earned run average is about the lowest of any pitcher in the league. Roderick has been responsible but for five runs in three games. The former Roseville southpaw allowed twelve hits, only one of them going for extra bases. He uses his head around the pitchers box, this being shown Sunday when he took Jorgenson's bunt and tossed Clark out at third. Dave is also a heavy hitter but as yet has not found his batting eye.

The local nine will have to get together on who's going to catch the pop flies. Twice during Sunday's game pop-ups fell safe. In the seventh, Roderick and Backerich let Jorgenson's fly drop between them, though the ball rolled foul. In the ninth, Reeder, Neil and Clark held a pow-wow in back of second, as to who was going to take Clark's fly. Before they could make up their minds the ball dropped safely between them.

Merlin Reeder, brother of Ed, who played centerfield for the Barts last year, played a good game in center for Folsom, Sunday. Merle got himself a double and single in four tries, and caught three in the outfield.

Jack Woerner leads the Bart's sluggers with a .556 average. Jack has hit safely fifteen times in twenty-seven trips to the plate.

Folsom, for the first time this year, is out of first place and Auburn, holding the top position alone, with Placerville, Folsom and Roseville a game behind.

A note from Scoop says that Colfax plays here next Sunday and will give the Barts plenty of baseball. We know it, Scoop. During the last three years Colfax has been a tough one to knock over. They've played in the championship play-off twice, and lost to the Barts once and to Folsom last year. The third time is supposed to be the lucky one.

Scoop also has a new alibi for losing a ball game—The arrival of a 1934 Colfax star at the home of one of his players.

Mrs. Warren Benson was in town from Summit section on Monday.

Barts Defeat Folsom, 8-4

ing the time he was in the game. Two of the hits were home runs by Backerich and Eddie Reeder.

The Barts crossed the plate twice in the opening frame, a lead they held only until Folsom came to bat. Clark and Neil led off with singles and were advanced by Reeder's sacrifice. Both runners scored when Woerner drove a single into right.

Folsom came right back to score three in their half of the first, two of the tallies counting when Woerner, dropped Keenley's fly in right field. Dave Roderick, on the mound for the Barts had his usual bad first inning, the first four men to face him getting on base.

Henry Clark, second basemen of the champs, started the inning with a single. Dave had trouble locating the plate and issued a pass to MacKay. Jorgenson forced Clark at third but Kipp followed with a single to score MacKay. Keenley then hit a long fly into right, and Woerner, after a long run, dropped the ball, Jorgenson and Kipp scoring.

This ended Folsom's run-making until the ninth inning when they scored their final tally.

Placerville scored four times in the second to cinch the game. Three of the runs came after two were out. Scheiber had already gone out when Backerich hit a line drive into left field, good for a home run. Roderick fanned, and when Clark hit to MacKay at short, the throw to first was wild, and the local short stop pulled up at second. Neil singled into right and Clark was held at third. Reeder then hit a home run into deep right center, scoring Clark and Neil ahead of him. Woerner followed with a base hit and Lippert was removed in favor of Don Kipp. Visintainer reached first on MacKay's second error of the inning, but Warren, the ninth man to come to bat during the rally, was thrown out at first on his hit to second.

Kipp and Roderick then settled down to pitch. The Folsom southpaw held the locals to three hits during the last seven innings.

Two of these came in the sixth inning when the Barts ran their total to eight. With two out, Reeder doubled to right to score Roderick who had reached first on an error, and Clark, who singled.

Folsom, threatened in the ninth, when three successive singles were good for one run. Euer, Clark and C. MacKay singled with none out, but the side was retired with little trouble when Jorgenson flew out to center. Kipp popped to third and Keenley ended the game by going down swinging.

Folsom out-hit the Barts twelve to ten. Roderick kept the hits so well scattered that the Folsom nine could not score, most of the bingles coming after two were out.
